Learning Communities Program

Learning communities involve the intentional creation of class pairs or clusters around a common theme, public issue or question. Typically, the same group of students is co-enrolled in two or more courses, usually from different disciplines—for instance, history and art, English and career guidance, political science and philosophy. Students enroll in both courses but receive a separate grade for each one. Course instructors integrate their syllabi, encouraging students to gain a deeper understanding of each course, even as they discover connections between the two. Classroom activities, tests, assignments, field trips, research projects, and educational technology are used to engage students in their own learning, as well as provide them with valuable “real-world” skills.

Perhaps more importantly, the learning community model promotes student-centered learning, with an emphasis on an enriched classroom environment. It promotes greater intellectual growth and genuine mastery of course content through collaborative activities, frequent feedback, and increased student-teacher and student-student interactions. Traditional lecturing is minimized; active learning and thoughtful integration of content are maximized.

Research indicates learning communities promote student achievement, retention, and progress toward degree completion. Faculty benefit from professional development and training, fresh approaches to teaching, and collaboration with colleagues.

FIRST-YEAR EXPERIENCE (FYE)

The First-Year Experience Program is a special part of the Learning Community Program. These courses are designed to provide students with a positive, strong start in college to be a successful college student. Students who are interested in this program should call (562) 860-2541, ext. 2782, for more information.

What Are The Benefits Of Joining A Learning Community?

- Learn how to choose your major and reach your academic goals sooner
- Graduate or transfer to a four-year college or university sooner
- Increase your learning and earn better grades

Are the Learning Communities courses transferable?

Many of the courses are transferable to the CSU's and UC's. See the Schedule of Classes or the Cerritos College Catalog to check specific courses.

What are the requirements to enroll?

The only requirement is that you must enroll in all the courses listed for that Learning Community. The prerequisites are listed in the Cerritos College Catalog and must be met prior to enrollment.

Are Learning Community courses more difficult?

No, you will not be required to do more work than if you took the two classes separately. In fact, by taking the courses in a learning community, you may find that material is easier to understand.

How will Learning Community courses be listed on my transcript?

Your transcript will reflect the classes as separate courses.
