The Pacific Internship Programs for Exploring Science (PIPS) brings together several internship programs for undergraduates interested in environmental careers and study. Each summer interns participate in an 11-week paid internship on environmental research, resource management and/or environmental education projects with mentors from the University of Hawaii, local state and federal agencies, and/or non-profit organizations throughout the state of Hawaii and the greater Pacific basin.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: FEBRUARY 12, 2010

Deadline has been extended! New Deadline: Friday February 26, 2010

TO APPLY:
Instructions and application materials available online at: http://www.uhh.hawaii.edu/uhintern

For more information on these and other opportunities, see our web page at: http://www.uhh.hawaii.edu/uhintern

or contact the PIPES Office at uhintern@hawaii.edu or by phone at 933-0705

Posted 2/17/10