CERRITOS COLLEGE
COMPUTER AND INFORMATION SCIENCES

The Computer and Information Sciences Department offers programs which prepare students to meet the challenges of the Information Technology (IT) industry as well as transfer to a four-year college or university.

We have programs to prepare you to work as a software developer, systems analyst, system administrator/operator, networking technician, database administrator, and web-site/page designer.

1. Computer Science Transfer (articulation agreements) California State Universities – Dominguez Hills, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Fullerton, and Pomona Universities of California – Irvine, and Los Angeles

2. Certificates of Achievement and Associate of Arts degrees
   a. Programmer
   b. Systems Analyst
   c. Microcomputer Specialist
   d. Networking Technicians / Operators e. Operators
   f. IBM AS/400 Specialist

3. Preparation for Industry Certifications
   a. Microsoft Certified Systems Engineering (MCSE)
   b. Microsoft Certified Systems Administration (MCSA)
   c. Cisco Certified Network Associate Program (CCNA)
   d. A+ Certification
   e. Security+ Certification
   f. Oracle Database Specialist

4. Verifications of Completion
   a. A+ Certification
   b. Cyber Security
   c. Network Administrator
   d. Microsoft Systems Administrator
   e. Software Development in the Unix/Linux Environment
   f. IBM iSeries Server Operator
   g. System Analysts
   h. Project Management for Information Technologies
   i. Web Page Development

For more information about CIS programs, please visit our website at www.cerritos.edu/sem/cis or contact:

Department Co-chairpersons:

- Jack Wilson  (562) 860-2451 Ext. 2722 email: jwilson@cerritos.edu

- Phuong Nguyen  (562) 860-2451 Ext. 2738 email: pnguyen@cerritos.edu