Current Conditions
Student enrollment has been very high and state funding has been reduced. Due to these current conditions:

• Few classes are now available and few will be open from now through the end of the Add periods. English, math and reading classes are extremely limited.
• There may be no classes available that match recommended classes from your assessment test scores or Ed Plan.
• Wait times for services and appointments may be longer than before. A One-Stop Pass is required to receive assistance in Admissions & Records, Counseling, and Financial Aid.
• Counselors want to help provide you with possible options; please be sure to search (see below) for open classes in preparation for seeing a counselor.

What You Can Do Now

- Plan ahead so that you have extra time to obtain services on a walk-in or appointment basis.
- Check for Open Classes on Schedule Plus online at www.cerritos.edu/schedule or use the posted listings in the Administration Building.

We hope you can enroll here at Cerritos, but it may not be possible at this time. If you can’t, consider other options:

- Try to enroll in at least one class now, and then in November or December, enroll in classes for next semester.
- Plan for next semester. (if you do not enroll in classes this fall)
  - Complete a Spring 2011 admission application
  - Verify you have met class prerequisites
  - For students new to college:
    - complete assessment tests and
    - attend a New Student Orientation early.
- Consider another college now and plan to take the steps above to prepare to enroll here at Cerritos next semester.

Our Commitment
We have a long history of supporting student success with excellent programs and services. Cerritos College is the college of choice for many students. We value you and we are glad you are here.
