Getting In and Getting Ahead:

• Conquering the Law School Admissions Process – The law school admissions process can often times be stressful and overwhelming. This presentation will provide concrete answers to these questions: 1) What does an admissions committee look for in an application? 2) Why is there emphasis on GPA and LSAT scores? 3) Do personal statements and letters of recommendations matter? 4) Does the timing of when you submit your application matter?

• Scholarship Strategies - Learn how to get them, how to keep them, and how to know if you should take the scholarships offered to you.

• Getting to Know Law Schools – Choosing a law school is a very difficult decision. This presentation will provide students with a rubric to use when considering various law schools.

• Life as a Law Student – Why does everyone say “law school is difficult”? This comment will be discussed with detailed examples from the first-year academic experience through graduation.

Please contact Robert Mena, Southwestern’s Associate Dean for Student Affairs at rmena@swlaw.edu or (213) 738-6716 with any questions about the event.

No RSVP required.
